

MOVEMENT. CRAFT. COMMUNITY.

Tennis, as it should be taught.

Movement. Craft. Community.

OFFICIAL CITY OF LAGUNA BEACH TENNIS PARTNER SINCE 2020

Founded by Andrew Mateljan.

Fourth-generation tennis coach. Andrew was introduced to the game by his grandfather Steve at Ford Park in Redlands and has spent twenty years on tour and on court since. Top-12 nationally as a junior, two-time Kalamazoo Nationals competitor, ITF Futures circuit (US, Venezuela, El Salvador, Guatemala). Trained at Sánchez-Casal Spain under Jimmy Johnson. Seven years coaching internationally — Spain, Croatia, Norway — built the movement-first approach that runs every session at LBTA today.

Currently coaches Karue Sell (ATP #258 — took him from #860 to #258 in 2025). Colton Smith (ATP #133), Max McKennon (#458), and Ryan Seggerman (#63 in doubles) all came through the same training. Alex Michelsen came through the program at ages 12–13 — now ATP #30, 2022 Wimbledon Boys' Doubles champion.

*"Structure creates confidence.
Confidence creates results."*

The Three Pillars

Movement — the foundation. Footwork solves 80% of the problem before the swing happens.

Craft — structure that builds confidence. Consistent practice routines create lasting mental toughness.

Community — a community built on respect. Every LBTA session ends in a circle.

From first rally to college tennis.

A clear progression from age three. Same coaches, same standard. The path is the same; the work meets you where you are.

Peter DeFrantz

HEAD COACH, JUNIOR DEVELOPMENT

Peter grew up on the tennis court — his father coached high school tennis — and learned early that the game is about more than strokes: how you carry yourself, compete, and treat people. College tennis at Mt. San Jacinto College; dual USPTA and PTR certified. Eight years coaching across Southern California with a progressive, player-centered approach.
