

One-on-one, by appointment.

Movement. Craft. Community.

Private coaching at LBTA is built around your goals: technical clarity, match preparation, return-to-play after injury, or a structured ramp toward competitive tennis. Three coaches with published rates and 10/20-pack savings. Sessions on city-managed courts — no club membership required.

Andrew Mateljan

FOUNDER & DIRECTOR OF TENNIS

Fourth-generation tennis coach. Twenty years on tour and on court. Took Karue Sell from ATP #860 to #258 in 2025. Colton Smith (#133), Max McKennon (#458), and Ryan Seggerman (#63 in doubles) all came through the same training. Alex Michelsen came through the program at ages 12–13 — now ATP #30. Trained at Sánchez-Casal Spain under Jimmy Johnson; seven years coaching internationally across Spain, Croatia, and Norway.

Peter DeFrantz

HEAD COACH, JUNIOR DEVELOPMENT

Peter grew up on the tennis court — his father coached high school tennis — and learned early that the game is about more than strokes: how you carry yourself, compete, and treat people. College tennis at Mt. San Jacinto College; dual USPTA and PTR certified. Eight years coaching across Southern California with a progressive, player-centered approach.
